Call for owners to take action over derelict pub

DEBRA FOX

UNCERTAINTY still surrounds the future of a derelict Haverhill pub, with the owners being urged to take action.

The Vixen, in the town's Strasbourg Square, has stood empty for years.

A change of use application, to transform the former pub into a funeral parlour and mortuary, entered by directors R Gwinnell & Sons, was withdrawn in October 2012.

Planning permission is not required to change the use of the building to a funeral parlour – and separate permission was later granted for building alterations including the creation of gable ends, a new entrance door and screen.

But no work has been done.

Colin Poole, town clerk, said: "If they have given up on the idea, they should put it on the market."

"It's not acceptable to leave the place in ruin."

There is also "official pressure" on the business, Mr Poole added, and they have been given a certain amount of time to make the building safe.

DERELICT: The old Vixen pub

Windows have been smashed, the brickwork has been drawn on, and litter has been left on the site.

Mr Poole said: "The place is an eyesore and it brings the area down, and it seems a most peculiar way for a funeral directors to behave."

Despite numerous attempts by the Weekly News, no one from R Gwinnell & Sons was available for comment.

In Newmarket, Forest Heath District Council is in discussions with the owners of Queensbury Lodge, a former racing yard which has been empty for more than 20 years. The council has said it would put a compulsory purchase order on the building as a last resort, if it and the owners cannot reach an agreement.

A spokesman for St Edmundsbury Borough Council said: "We would always encourage dialogue with the owners and the council's planning department."

"In terms of a compulsory purchase order – we are not considering one at the moment [for the Vixen] and we would only do so when all else fails."

Nursery school plan for research park

AN INNOVATIVE research park is joining forces with an 'outstanding' Montessori nursery.

Colourbox Montessori School Ltd, which currently operates a facility in Newmarket, has agreed a lease with Haverhill's new research park, on Three Counties Way.

A planning application for the new nursery has been submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council by park developer Carisbrooke Investments.

It is thought that the single-storey building would be built close to the park's entrance.

Nic Rumsey, of Carisbrooke, said: "We are delighted to have concluded an agreement to lease the building to Colourbox, which has a respected reputation in this part of East Anglia."

Having Colourbox on board would allow the park to provide "an important and safe facility" for children in and around Haverhill, Mr Rumsey added.

Plans to have a nursery on site were set out in the original outline application for the park, which was approved by the borough council in 2011.

These plans also included a restaurant, new homes and large office spaces.

Mr Rumsey said: "In addition it is another major foundation stone towards making Haverhill Research park a very sustainable working location.

"Parents will be able to drop their children off before coming to work at the park and pick them up on the way home."

Susie Norman, owner of Colourbox, said the nursery was "thrilled" to be part of the exciting new project.

The nursery would have an external play area and drop-off zone, with 16 parking spaces. Full and part-time care would be available for children from 3 months to 5 years.

Dementia awareness night raises funds

AN AWARENESS evening for dementia patients and their families has raised £350 for a hospital campaign.

The event, held at Haverhill Arts Centre on October 15, attracted around 100 visitors.

Many signed up to become Dementia Friends during the evening.

Organised by the Cambridge Care Company, the event had sessions on dementia, a performance from Sky Blue Theatre Company and interactive activities with the Dementia Friends.

Those running information stands included Age UK, Dementia Dozen, St

Nicholas Hospice Care and Sue Ryder.

Money raised during the event is going towards the Forget Me Not dementia campaign at West Suffolk Hospital.

All visitors were given an information wallet, which included leaflets about dementia and support services available.

Nathalie Gilder, of the Cambridge Care Company, said that the organisation was already looking towards further events.

She said: "We are looking to hold another dementia awareness evening in the new year in Newmarket, Bury St Edmunds and possibly another in Haverhill."

Change of date for pre-loved sale

A PRE-loved children's sale, due to take place on Saturday, has been moved to November.

Organised by Cheeki Monkeys, the sale of pre-loved and good condition items was supposed to be at Haverhill's Leiston Centre this weekend.

It will take place instead on November 29, from 12pm until 3pm.

Now, the event will take on a Christmas theme with parents being encouraged to shop for seasonal bargains.

At the sale, there will be a bouncy ball pool, games and prizes to keep youngsters entertained.

Parents can enjoy teas, coffees and cakes while they shop.

Due to the date change, there are a few seller spaces now available, and one craft-related stall space up for grabs.

Pre-loved tables are £10, plus VAT, and craft tables are £19, plus VAT.

Sellers keep all money made at the event.

Entry is £1 for adults, and children go free.

All admission fees are being donated to East Anglia's Children's Hospices (EACH).

No support for new homes application

TOWN councillors are not supporting plans for 15 flats in Haverhill.

The application, on behalf of Havebury Housing Partnership, has been resubmitted by Prime Crest Homes Ltd.

Robert Crawford, of Prime Crest, attended a town council planning meeting on Tuesday, to present the application and answer questions.

If approved, the homes would be built on Anglian Place, Burton End.

Speaking at the meeting, Mr Crawford said: "Comments made on the original application have been taken into account in our redesign."

The application is being supported by the borough council's strategy and enabling officer, he added.

There are 15 parking spaces proposed for the site.

Cllr Betty McLatchy said residents living in the area are concerned about the development, which will be "slap bang in the middle of all of the houses".

The council objected on the grounds that the new homes would have an impact on traffic in the area, and would overlook existing properties.

Cllr Ernie Goody proposed that councillors support the application – but nobody seconded his motion.

He said: "I know there are traffic problems up there but I don't think there's a lot we can do about it and we do need these houses and many people in the town are waiting for this type of thing, and I think, all things considered, it's a good job done."

Cllr Pat Hanlon objected, and was seconded by Cllr Phillip French.

Traders slam A-board proposals for borough

DEBRA FOX

BUSINESSES are urging the council to find other ways of "de-cluttering" Haverhill town centre.

Last week, St Edmundsbury Borough Council revealed proposals to introduce a system of enforcement regarding the display of posters, illuminated signs or A-boards – meaning businesses would need to apply for planning consent to have them.

But some shops on Haverhill High Street have hailed the proposals as unfair – and just "something else they would have to worry about".

Simon Rush and David K, who both work at the town's branch of Hughes, said the business relied on the A-board for advertising.

Mr Rush said: "This is another thing that could stop small businesses from coming to Haverhill. Small, independent shops rely on adverts – people don't just walk into shops. It would be a stupid idea to start doing that."

The employee also voiced his concerns about motorists who parked on the High Street path, blocking the entrances to shops. Raising the kerb along the

A-BOARD: Simon Rush and David K, who work at Hughes, said the business relied on the A-board for advertising.

High Street would discourage people from parking there, he said.

The borough council said the proposals would recognise the needs of businesses alongside safety risks posed by cluttered shopping areas.

The changes would also make areas safer for wheelchair users, parents with pushchairs and shoppers with visual impairments.

A council spokesman confirmed that there would be a charge for submitting a planning application for a board – but that the borough was just abiding by the law as businesses should already have been paying for the boards.

Blooming Lovely, which is located just off the High Street in Gurteen's yard, uses an A-board to direct customers to the shop.

Amanda Stafford, owner, said: "We do really need it because we are just off the High Street. Most people know where we are but we get a lot of people who come from out of town and spot us immediately. "Even for shops on the High Street – people spot the A-board before the shop."

Sam Clark, owner of American diner Route 66, said he would no longer use an A-board outside the restaurant as his rates were "expensive".

He added: "As long as there's enough room for wheelchair users, mobility scooters to get through I don't see the problem with the boards being there."

A report on the proposal was recommended for approval by the Overview and Scrutiny Committee yesterday.

The council will now consult with ONE Haverhill, OurBuryStEdmunds and other trade associations before seeking cabinet approval.

Any change would not be implemented until spring 2015.

Man, 59, pleads not guilty to assault

A HAVERHILL man has pleaded not guilty to one charge of assaulting a designated or accredited person.

Stephen Nash, of Roman Way, made his first appearance at Bury St Edmunds Magistrates' Court on Tuesday.

Nash, 59, pleaded not guilty to assaulting PCSO Kayla Packman, of Haverhill Police, on the town's High Street on September 12.

The case has been listed for a trial, which is expected to start on February 20.

Nash was released on bail, with the condition that he must not contact PCSO Packman by any means.

Pilates class for beginners

A NEW exercise class is starting in Haverhill next month.

The beginners pilates sessions are starting on November 4, from 10.30am until 12pm, and are being run by Live Well Suffolk.

They will take place at Haverhill Leisure Centre, and run for six weeks until December 9. Michelle Cowcher will lead the course.

Floyd Croll, Live Well Suffolk's community health coach in Haverhill, will be developing personal health plans for participants, according to specific needs.

He will help each individual set a personal and achievable target.

He said: "We will spend the first 30 minutes of each session on the health improvement side of things, with the remaining 60 minutes made up of the physical activity element."

"The pilates course is ideal for those who perhaps haven't taken part in exercise for a while because it helps to increase your fitness levels at a gentle, steady pace."

Pilates is based around stretches and strengthening exercises to improve flexibility, core stability and muscle strength.

New substation 'could help to bring new jobs'

A COMPANY hopes to install a new electricity substation to boost its business.

Plans have been entered for the new substation at Cambridge Nanotherm in Haverhill's Homefield Road.

If approved, the new station would be housed next to an existing substation. Both would boost electrical capacity to the factory.

The new development, the company has said, would improve its service and help to create jobs.

In a letter to St Edmundsbury Borough Council, Sergey Usov, director of Cambridge Nanotherm, said: "Our company's continued growth will lead to the installation of new production line equipment thus needing increased electrical capacity to the factory. Our expansion of the new production facilities will promote growth and development of our business and will bring new employment opportunities to the Haverhill area."

At a town council planning meeting on Tuesday, councillors moved to unanimously approve the application. The application has been entered by East Connect, on behalf of Cambridge Nanotherm.

Another plan for a supermarket kiosk

A SUPERMARKET has entered plans for a concession at its Haverhill store – only weeks after its rival withdrew a similar application.

Sainsbury's is applying for planning permission for a Timpson kiosk at its store in the town's Haycocks Road.

If approved, the "pod" will be built on the store's northern side, where motorcycle parking is situated.

Speaking at a town council planning meeting on Tuesday, resident Edel Pinnock, of Coupals Road, said: "I feel that we in this community should stand up and support our local businesses and send a message to those people that it's not acceptable what they are wanting to do."

At the end of September, Haverhill's Tesco branch, in Cangle Road, withdrew plans to build four similar kiosks at the store.

If permission had been given, they would have housed a Virgin Holidays, a Bupa Dentist, a Timpson and a Max Spielmann Photos.

Councillors moved to object to the Sainsbury's plans at the meeting on Tuesday.

Cllr Mary Martin, chairman of the planning committee, said: "We need to protect the vitality and viability of our town centre and allowing this application to go forward would be detrimental to businesses already in the town centre."

Visit stedmundsbury.gov.uk to view the plans.

Waste land could become office space

"WASTE land" next to a company's building could be transformed into a new office space.

At a town council planning meeting on Tuesday, committee members ruled to support the change of use application entered by G&A Fire Protection and Interior Services.

The building is in Helions Bumpstead Road.

Two car parking spaces and three cycle spaces have also been proposed for alongside the two-storey building, which would house six employees.

New jobs would be created at the business.

Speaking at the meeting, Cllr Pat Hanlon said: "I agree that we should support this."

Cllr Hanlon's motion to support the application was seconded by Cllr Ernie Goody.

A statement from G&A said that vehicular access will be provided to the site, to ensure cars do not congest the public highway.

It added: "The visibility splay from the proposed vehicular egress is excellent in both directions in Haverhill Road and also affords a good view of traffic emerging from the junction on the bend of Helions Bumpstead Road."

Suffolk County Council Highways and the county's Ramblers group have not objected to the plans.

Town is 'dog poo capital of UK' says angry mum

'Poogate': 'dog walkers need to be educated'

ONLY one dog walker has been fined for not cleaning up poo across the whole of St Edmundsbury since 2011.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council stopped employing dog wardens some three years ago, it has confirmed, and instead now focuses on educating people on the right way to behave.

Some residents have agreed that educating people is a positive step – but calls are being made for the council to do more.

Vanessa Boulton, of Grenadier Road, has stopped walking her dog in certain areas of town because they are so "disgusting".

Speaking to the Weekly News, she said: "I won't even walk my dog around the Flood Park any more."

"I have witnessed people stand there while their dogs are doing their poos and walk off and leave it there."

"They wouldn't leave it on their carpet, would they?"

DEBRA FOX

According to council figures, there are 70 dog bins in and around the Haverhill area, and more than 200 litter bins.

They are six dog bins and nine litter bins around Burton End School alone. There are four dog bins covering the exit to the Clements Playing Field.

A council spokesman said: "Haverhill has more dog bins per head than Bury St Edmunds with a larger population, not to mention that any general litter bin can be used for getting rid of bagged dog mess or the bin which we all have at home for our general waste."

"There is no stipulation for a council to provide dog bins and many do not."

Sue Claydon, of Arrendene Road, said more care should be taken to clean up around the town's primary schools.

Mrs Claydon, 57, said: "Where there's children it can be a real problem."

"Children run, and they are not interested in where they are going. It's about persuading people to clean up after their dogs."

The sole prosecution in the borough was brought thanks to witnesses producing evidence. It took place in Clare, the council said.

The council spokesman added: "There were relatively few fines issued before this, as it is difficult to obtain evidence and is very resource-intensive."

"Instead we have worked to make sure that there are a sufficient number of dog bins and signs in locations used by dog walkers, and that these bins are emptied regularly, in addition to our inspections and cleansing of areas on a regular basis."

The onus is on dog walkers to take "social responsibility" for their animals, he added.

Still time to apply for grants

LOCAL organisations are being encouraged to apply for grant funding before the deadline.

ONE Haverhill is offering up to £5,000 to groups providing opportunities to improve Haverhill.

Applicants must show that having the funding will make a real difference to the town and its residents.

They must also meet at least three of a list of key criteria which includes providing significant benefit for Haverhill's people, providing value for money and promoting health and safety.

Sarah Howard, chair of ONE Haverhill, said: "We have over the last few years given over £60,000 of grants funding provided by St Edmundsbury Borough Council to local organisations to help them get projects off the ground or to continue their good work."

Deadline is November 13 at 10am. Send completed application forms, downloadable from onehaverhill.co.uk/community-grants, to ONE Haverhill Grants Scheme, Haverhill Arts Centre, High Street, Haverhill, CB9 8AR.

Sick and tired of it...

HAVING read your report on the front page of the Weekly News, I had to send a reply regarding my experience.

Last year I took up the whole problem of dog fouling and the irresponsible owners with St Edmundsbury Borough Council. I take my grandson to the New Cangle School from my home in Arrendene Road several times a week.

I became sick and tired of the amount of dog poo littering the paths. I asked if the council could make a point of cleaning the areas, especially near schools and perhaps get some CCTV installed to make people think twice about walking away from their responsibilities.

Their response was that there was very little they could do to enforce the existing law about dog fouling, due to lack of resources because of the government cut backs. It was then suggested that if I were to see anyone not cleaning up after their dog, I should find out who they are and report them to the council.

As I have no wish to have my face punched by an irresponsible owner when asking for their name and address so I could report them, I wondered how I could do as they suggested?

I don't believe this problem is solely a Haverhill problem. The matter has been raised in the House of Commons.

We need to persuade every person in this beautiful country NOT to drop litter and TO CLEAN UP after their dogs.

Most people feel more strongly about this than about someone parking on double yellow lines in Haverhill High Street.

Susan Claydon
Arrendene Road
Haverhill

It's not that bad

IT is a ludicrous exaggeration to brand Haverhill "dog poo capital of UK".

Haverhill is no worse than any other town. Most of it is clean and you are unfortunate if you happen to have a lazy thoughtless dog walker regularly blighting your area.

Most dog walkers pick up (the overflowing bins in some locations proves that) and they challenge anyone they see not doing it.

All it takes is one or two lazy individuals to walk the same route each day or so and the mess soon accumulates.

You can talk to them until you're blue in the face, paint poo all colours of the rainbow and put up flashing neon signs but it won't change their behaviour.

Some think cleaning up is beneath them, others think it too yucky to do. The only thing that might make a difference is to photo them a regular basis, therefore bins are overflow causing an unsightly mess and smell!

The flood park is a disgrace and I have stopped walking my dog around it because of the dog mess laying about.

The signs stating owners will get a fine if they don't clean up after their dogs are useless: where is the warden to issue these fines? I have witnessed many people standing with their dogs while they foul and just walking off without clearing up!

As for banning dogs on the High street, why should the responsible dog owner be penalised?

I work for a water company and we target worst areas for sewer blockages and set up campaigns to try and re-educate the members of the public as to what goes down the sewer.

Wouldn't Haverhill benefit from some sort of campaign to help re-educate dog owners about clearing up after their dogs?

Strictly brass comes to the town's Arts Centre

FANS of glitzy reality show Strictly Come Dancing can experience a taste of its magic in Haverhill.

Pete Beachill, trombonist in the programme's band, is visiting the town next month for a special performance.

The musician, who has worked on many albums for artists such as Sting, Tom Jones and Robbie Williams, will join Haverhill Silver Band in their upcoming concert at the town's Arts Centre.

Richard Pannell, the group's secretary, said: "Your local first section brass band are honoured and lucky that we are to be joined by such a true professional in this concert."

"Pete will play a number of solos from different genres, ballads, jazz and swing."

Mr Beachill has also toured with Jimmy Page, Phil Collins and Liza Minelli and provided music in films including Chicago, Captain Corelli's Mandolin and the Jungle Book.

The concert is taking place on Sunday, November 16, from 7.30pm.

Tickets cost £8 or £6 for seniors.

HELPING HAND: World Mental Health Day at the Burton Centre.

Event celebrates health and happiness . . .

AN AWARENESS event has been held in Haverhill to coincide with World Mental Health Day.

The session, held at the town's Burton Centre, on Camps Road, brought together a range of local agencies to promote help and support available for mental health.

More than 4,000 people in the town will experience mental ill health each year.

Elaine Hewes, of Community Action Suffolk, said: "People of all ages and backgrounds in Suffolk are affected by mental ill health, and we want to let them know that there is a wide range of expert support and advice available."

Suffolk Health and Wellbeing Month is running across the county throughout October, with a number of events available.

For more information about help and support available locally, contact Elaine at Community Action Suffolk on 07990576893.

Boy beavers away at video

EXPLORER: Noah James, 7.

A SCHOOLBOY who created a video about his adventures with the beaver scouts has made a sequel.

Noah James, of 1st Haverhill Beavers, launched his first film 'I Am Noah' earlier this year.

It was picked up by UK Scouting in a bid to get more adults onboard and won the association a Digital Campaign of the Week award, from Third Sector.

Noah, 7, who was recognised for his work by Chief Scout Bear Grylls, has now made two more films.

Dad Chris, who works at Scouting Headquarters, said: "I am really proud - I knew he always had it in him."

DEBRA FOX

"His enthusiasm is just infectious."

Noah's newest video, 'Noah's Wild Adventure', tells viewers about his beaver colony's adventures in East Town Park.

It was launched last week and has more than 240 hits.

Noah draws the pictures, writes the words and does the voiceovers for his videos.

Chris said: "I think he gets inspired by what happens, and the group at 1st Haverhill Beavers have a really action-packed programme."

He added: "[Scouting] is a really positive influence on children and it really improves their life chances."

There are almost 40,000 children nationwide on waiting lists to join scouting groups, Chris said. Haverhill has only two scouting groups, with a need for more volunteers to come forward.

For more information about helping with Haverhill's scout groups, contact Duncan Batty, of 1st Haverhill Scouts, on (01440) 707317 or email gsl@1sthaverhillscouts.org.uk.

Bake sale to support fight against ebola

MORE than £200 has been raised to support those working to fight the ebola epidemic overseas.

Staff at Dr Selby and Partners and Christmas Maltings Surgeries in Haverhill held the fundraiser last week.

The surgeries were inspired to do their bit after learning that doctors and nurses working in Sierra Leone are being affected by the disease, and becoming infected due to lack of gloves and aprons.

Tasty treats baked by staff, patients and members of the public raised £222.

The surgeries thanked Ivor

Mitchell for manning the stall on October 15. The bake sale was led by Dr Sarah Andrews.
The money is going straight to the King's Sierra Leone Partnership – a charity run from King's College Hospital in London.

Could you be a host family?

CARING families who are willing to share their homes are being sought to provide accommodation for international students.

Samuel Ward Academy, in Haverhill, is preparing to welcome pupils from across Europe to experience the school – but first, they need somewhere to stay.

Students will require their own room with a place to study, wireless internet and full board.

Helen Burns, who lives in Haverhill, has been taking in international students for three years.

She, and her family, have described the experience as "incredibly rewarding".

They discussed the change with Jan Bergau, head of internationalism and international

student coordinator at the school, before signing up.

Helen said: "I have hosted international students for three years and find the experience to be a very positive one."

"I would not say that it is without its challenges at times but, by and large, it is incredibly rewarding."

Ms Bergau said the international students provide a "new dimension" to the classroom by sharing their own experiences with pupils.

She added: "As the months progress, they develop into confident young men and women, embracing the British culture with gusto."

"This confidence stems

mainly from the warm welcome the host families give them in their home."

Families will be reimbursed with £100 per week, and DBS checks will have to be completed.

A member of staff will be responsible for the student's emotional wellbeing.

Helen added: "The students vary enormously and so my experiences have been different with all of them but, without exception, I have found them to be interesting, funny, energetic, intelligent and entertaining young people."

"I do hope you will consider hosting a student."

"I thoroughly enjoy having them here with my family."

Call to restart county's Neighbourhood Watch

NEIGHBOURHOOD Watch schemes across Suffolk are going to be revitalised – with the help of a new event.

A new Suffolk Neighbourhood Watch Association (SNWA) has been launched to advise existing schemes across the county.

On November 1, SNWA is holding an event at the police headquarters in Martlesham for all members, and those wishing to start up a scheme in their community.

Guests will learn about keeping the county safe, and find out how to operate a successful scheme. Visit suffolknwa.co.uk.

Did you see Ford Focus damaged?

DAMAGE which will cost £500 to repair has been caused to a car parked in Haverhill.

The incident happened at around 11am on October 5 while the car, a white Ford Focus, was parked in Quendon Place, Girton Road.

Damage was caused to the driver's door and wing mirror.

A witness heard a vehicle screeching away from the area at the time of the inci-

Change of plan for police meetings

POLICING priorities will be submitted in a new way as part of an upcoming trial.

The next meeting of Haverhill's Safer Neighbourhood Team (SNT) is set to take place on December 8 – and concerned residents will now be asked to submit their thoughts ahead of time.

At the quarterly meetings, residents attending in person and watching online are usually encouraged to choose for the next three months' policing priorities during the evening.

These suggestions are then narrowed down to nine points, and those attending or watching submit their votes with the results announced afterwards.

Now, in a trial scheme for the SNT, all suggestions for priorities must be received ahead of the meeting.

DEBRA FOX

Voting forms can be completed online, collected at the police station and emailed to Inspector Peter Ferrie or filled in there and then.

The nine priorities will be revealed at the meeting and there will be a vote.

The deadline is December 1.

Insp Ferrie will give an update on Haverhill's reported crimes at the meetings, while Sgt Matt Gilbert, of the SNT team, will discuss how the previous priorities were tackled.

Currently, the town's SNT officers are dealing with drug crimes, anti-social behaviour and possible drug taking in Strasbourg Square and anti-social behaviour by cars and mopeds.

To submit online visit haverhillvote.co.uk.

POLICING PRIORITIES: Inspector Peter Ferrie, policing commander for Haverhill.

Light-time fun for the family at Hallowe'en

AN ALTERNATIVE celebration is coming to Haverhill this Hallowe'en.

Children and their parents are being invited to mark the day with a Light Party, which is being held at Haverhill Methodist Church.

Different activities, games and crafts will be on offer for over and under 11s.

These will include light biscuits, light houses, stained glass windows, face painting and graffiti walls.

The groups of children will also take part in a discussion on light and darkness, with the older ones watching a video about the origins of Hallowe'en.

At the end of the evening, each child will get a gift bag to take home – and there are other prizes to be won throughout the party.

October 31 is the Christian Festival of All Hallows' Eve – an All Saints' Day, which remembers the lives of those who gave up everything for their faith.

The event, which is suitable for children aged between 3 and 19, is running from 6pm until 9pm.

For more information email ruth@haverhillfc.org.uk. Entry is £1.

Is your town active?

TOWNS and villages across Suffolk are being urged to boast about how active they are.

The county council is on a quest to find the most active community, in line with Suffolk's ambition to become the most active county in England.

The most active town, small village and large village in Suffolk in 2014 will be crowned.

Each winner will receive a brass plaque and support from the Suffolk Most Active County team to build on their success.

The county council wants to know about sports and physical activities on offer – and any physical activity can be included.

Cllr Alan Murray, cabinet member for health and adult care, said: "The competition will celebrate the hard work taking place in so many communities to give local people the opportunity and inspiration to get active and stay active."

Deadline is December 7. Visit mostactivecounty.com/community\_activity.

Mental health still a worry at prison

DEBRA FOX

CONCERNS about prisoners with mental health issues, the handling of property and a lack of counselling have been revealed in an independent report into Highpoint Prison.

The report, carried out by the Independent Monitoring Board, covers the period from January until December 31 last year. It was published this month.

It ruled that the prison, which is in Stradishall, just outside Haverhill, is still meeting most of its targets – but is not now at the standard it was at the beginning of 2013.

Amongst concerns were the "lack of progress" in identifying mental health problems early into sentencing, prisoners' property going missing during transportation and that there is "no process in place for identifying clinical need for counselling and no facilities in place to provide it".

REPORT:
Highpoint Prison is meeting most of its targets

While the report praised the prison's staff for working well in "sometimes difficult" conditions, it said that further financial constraints might impact the prisoners.

It said: "[The board] questions whether Highpoint can continue to function without prisoners facing longer times in cells, which will only add to their frustration, ultimately having a negative impact on the safety and decency of the establishment, and for prisoners and staff."

According to the report, the category C prison has a population of more than 1,300.

A new governor was appointed in October last year.

The report said: "With the senior management team, he has implemented many positive changes including extensive works on the grounds and within the residential units."

For more information, and to view the full report, visit justice.gov.uk.

Matthew Hancock, MP for the area, said: "These recent figures are testament to the hard work of our brilliant GPs and the CCG who are dedicated to educating the local community about the importance of early diagnosis."

the GUIDE

See them: Junction Fiver,
Cambridge Junction, Cambridge,
Friday, December 19.
Hear them: Tied In Time EP (out now)

This week Lewis, Charlie and Will from The Staycations discuss playing at Cambridge Junction, their musical heroes and how a school Spanish lesson inspired the band's name

The Staycations

1 Describe your sound or style in a nutshell.

(Lewis) In a nutshell we're an indie folk group. I don't know how else to describe our music.

2 Talk me through the band members: what do they do and what are they like?

(Lewis) I'm the lead vocalist, and I'm also one of the two songwriters in the band.

(Charlie) I play guitar and I write the lead guitar parts.

(Will) I play acoustic guitar and I do harmonies and write part of the songs. Lewis, Charlie and I collectively do most of the songwriting together. Then there's the bass player, Craig, who couldn't be with us today. He plays bass guitar and writes bass lines.

We're all easygoing lads, we like a joke and we just gel, we get each other. We've been friends for five or six years now, so there's a natural chemistry between us.

3 Why the name?

(Will) When Craig and myself were at secondary school, in our Spanish lesson we were talking about how it would be great when we were older, after we'd finished college, to go on holiday together. We came across the term "staycation" – meaning to take a holiday in your own country. We thought it was a good British name, and it was unusual, so that when people hear that it's our band name, they'd question it. We came up with it when we were 13 and it's stuck ever since. We've not yet actually gone on a staycation, except I guess when we went to Brighton to record.

4 Town or gown? Mill Road or King's Parade?

Town, I think. We're all born and bred Cambridge – born in the Rosie! We'd choose Mill Road over King's Parade – I love its cultural diversity.

5 Where should someone who's not heard you before start?

Go and 'like' our Facebook page, we do lots of interactions there, and we use it to let people know about our gigs. We also have a soundcloud page with all our material on it: soundcloud.com/thestaycations. The best track to start with would be Dearest.

6 Best local show?

That would have to be our gig at J1 at the Junction last week. It was phenomenal. We had a turnout of 750 people – so we nearly managed to sell the venue out! It was one of the best gigs we've ever played. People were dancing and jumping and crowdsurfing. It was probably our biggest show too.

7 Where next for the band?

Early next year we're intending to record a second EP, maybe in Brighton again.

8 When is your next Cambridge show?

We've got another Junction gig on December 19, playing with four other bands as part of the Junction Fiver night. Pay a fiver and see five bands.

9 Who is your musical hero or heroine?

I think we would all say Ben Howard, Two Door Cinema Club, The 1975. But we do like all kinds of music really.

10 Can you suggest another local band or artist that we should feature on this page?

Rachel Clark. She is a fellow artist with a new EP out, she's one of our really good friends and she writes really beautiful, delicate songs.

Fitz exhibition

BE unnerved and intrigued by the Fitzwilliam Museum's eagerly anticipated new show.

Silent Partners: Artist & Mannequin from Function to Fetish is – after much hype – finally open!

It has been curated by Jane Munro and is, according to a museum spokesperson, one of the most "ambitious" shows the gallery has ever hosted.

Intrigued? No wonder. The exhibition brings together more than 180 paintings and drawings by the likes of Beeton, Cézanne, Poussin, Gainsborough, Millais, Ford Madox Brown and Degas, as well as photographs by Surrealist artists such as Man Ray, Hans Bellmer and Salvador Dali.

These sit alongside books, fashion dolls, trade catalogues, patent documents and videos. And, of course, a collection of physical mannequins, including "beautifully carved 16th century small-scale figurines to haunting wooden effigies, painted dolls of full human height and top-of-the-range 'stuffed Parisian' lay figures that were sought after by artists throughout Europe."

The collection has even inspired whimsical Vogue photographer Tim Walker and fashion set designer Shona Heath, some of whose pieces have been added as supporting work for the show.

Heath said: "When I saw the Alan Beeton paintings for the first time, they blew my mind."

"I couldn't work out what the mannequin was, and why it was so alive."

She added: "The pieces that are in Tim Walker's photographs will be used as sign posts to follow through the museum to the exhibition."

"Like a treasure hunt, the photographs hold items that are to be found along the way."

"The pictures are at once fantasy, beautiful, dark, sexual, touching on morbid, as are the installations."

To find out more call (01223) 332904 or visit fitzmuseum.cam.ac.uk.

The show will run until Sunday, January 25 when it will move on to the Musée Bourdelle, Paris.

Escape the winter blues

EXPLORE huge blue skies at Over Gallery this autumn. Painting The Blues sees Cambridge printmaker and painter Jo Tunmer showcase a collection of dreamlike paintings of the sky at Over Gallery. Tunmer said: "I love painting the landscape as it is constantly changing and evolving. It may be a shape, colour or an atmosphere that's the starting point, then I sketch, photograph and come back to the studio to work." The show will run until Saturday, November 15. For more information, contact (01954) 230997.

New show at Kettle's Yard

ARBURY, East Chesterton and King's Hedges in Cambridge have been captured in a new photography exhibition at Kettle's Yard. A joint project between artist Katherine Green and North Cambridge Girls Group, I Come From A Place, features a series of portraits and interviews with local people. The show aims to document the different communities and show that assumptions are not always correct. The show runs until Sunday, October 26.

Autumn treasures

SO it's official – a walk to take in the seasonal colours of autumn is good for our wellbeing, according to new research by the National Trust.

Indeed, now is the time for considering what we might want to plant to give us a blaze of autumn colour in future years, whether it's Japanese maples or other shrubs and trees which produce stunning burnt orange, red and burgundy hues as well as vibrant berries.

Here are some of the places you may find inspiration this autumn:

■ Thorp Perrow Arboretum, Bedale, North Yorkshire (www.thorpperrow.com/01677425323)

This amazing arboretum, woodland garden and falconry centre has 85 acres of woodland walks and boasts one of the largest and rarest collections of trees and shrubs in the north of England and holds five National Collections – ash, lime, walnut, laburnum and cotinus.

■ Wicken Fen, Cambridgeshire (www.nationaltrust.org.uk/wicken-fenautumnwalk)

Wicken Fen is one of Europe's most

by Hannah Stephenson important wetlands, supporting an abundance of wildlife.

The raised boardwalk and lush grass droves allow easy access to a lost landscape where visitors can enjoy the vibrant russet tones of the sedge in the autumn months.

■ Drummond Gardens, Muthill, Crieff, Perthshire, Scotland (Open to Oct 31, www.drummondcastlegardens.co.uk/01764681433)

This Scottish gem boasts one of the finest formal gardens in Europe. Designed in the shape of the St Andrew's Cross, the parterre was built by garden designer Lewis Kennedy in the early 19th century.

Fountains, urns and statuary demonstrate the Italianate style and in autumn it comes into its own when the sunlight hits the leaves of 14 different species of acer along with the russets and gold hues in the woodland regions.

■ Powis Castle, Powys (www.nationaltrust.org.uk/powis-castle/01938551944)

Rising above the terraced garden and estate, this medieval fortress provides a fantastic autumnal setting. The warm colours of the castle appear to echo the rich tones of seasonal foliage, as the red walls match the red vines and leaves in the surrounding woodlands.

Follow the route through the woods and look out for bird and bat boxes and see what other wildlife and bugs you can spot around the grounds.

■ Trentham, Stoke-on-Trent, Staffordshire (www.trentham.co.uk/01782646646)

Contemporary designer Piet Oudolf's Rivers of Grass are at their

gardening

most spectacular at this time of year – and walking right through the tall Molinias is positively encouraged.

Hot autumn colours simmer as light softly hits the planting among the 70 flower beds in the Italian Gardens, while the swathes of coloured grasses in the Rivers of Grass make a staggering impact.

There's also woodland originally planted by Capability Brown and more trees, chosen especially for their autumn colour, have been recently planted.

■ Divis Mountain, Hannahstown, Belfast, County Antrim (www.nationaltrust.org.uk/divisautumnwalk)

The colour purple dominates the mountain of Divis in the autumn which is set in the heart of the Belfast Hills.

Look out for the purple-coloured and wonderfully named Devil's-bit Scabious carpets. It's a curious-looking plant, with a purple head with antlers sticking out and is the food source for the marsh fritillary butterfly, only found on three sites on Divis.

■ Centre Stage Company continue to thrill with FOOTLOOSE – THE MUSICAL on Thursday, Friday and Saturday this week at 7.30pm, with a matinee at 2.30pm on Saturday. In this wildly energetic and fun-filled show dancing boy Ren meets a girl, Ariel, the daughter of a slow-paced town's reverend who has banned dancing after the tragic loss of his son. Ren comes to town and makes it his duty to turn this town around with the power of freedom and dance! Filled with an original soundtrack plus loved 80s tracks; Holding Out For A Hero and Let's Hear It For The Boy, it's really time to 'cut footloose!'

■ We have a live broadcast of THE LEGEND OF LOVE on October 26 at 3pm. This is a splendid tale of forbidden love, self-sacrifice, jealousy and suffering, which returns to the Bolshoi stage. This is one of Russian master Yuri Grigorovich's earliest choreographic works and explores the enduring conflict between love and duty.

■ Halloween-themed fun for the half-term holidays comes with LITTLE FRANKENSTEIN by Lempen Puppet Theatre on Tuesday October 28 at 2.30pm. Puppeteer Frank Stein has had enough with his badly-made puppets that keep falling apart; inspired by Dr Frankenstein, he creates a puppet that changes his life forever! Creature George emerges from the workshop, innocent and willing to learn but Frank is so intent on his new show that he neglects to look after his new child.

FILM: Planes 2: Fire & Rescue 2D is showing at the Arts Centre next week

FRANKENSTEIN, a recorded broadcast from the National Theatre, is on October 30 at 7pm. Oscar-winner Danny Boyle's visionary production has Jonny Lee Miller as the creature and Benedict Cumberbatch as Frankenstein. Childlike in his innocence but grotesque in form, Frankenstein's bewildered creature is cast out into a hostile universe by his horror-struck maker. Meeting with cruelty wherever he goes, the friendless Creature, increasingly desperate and vengeful, determines to track down his creator and strike a terrifying deal.

■ THE HOUSE OF MAGIC 2D (U) is showing on October 27 at 2.30pm.

Disowned by his family, Thunder the cat arrives at the forbidding looking suburban home of Lawrence, a retired magician, who shares it with numerous whacky magical props.

■ PLANES 2: FIRE & RESCUE 2D (U) is showing on October 29 at 10.30am.

■ THE NUT JOB 2D (U) is on October 29 at 2.30pm.

■ THE KEEPER OF LOST CAUSES (15) showing on October 27 at 7.30pm.

THE biggest new car discount in Britain is for a BMW 7 Series, exclusive research by What Car?'s Target Price team can reveal.

The saving of £18,650 was negotiated by What Car?'s mystery shoppers and represents an enormous 31 per cent saving off the car's list price.

The reason for the huge discount is that the BMW 7 Series is about to be replaced by a newer model, but What Car?'s Target Price research reveals that it is just one of several double-digit discounts achievable on BMWs.

As a result, the premium car manufacturer sits third among all car makers for the overall average discount available on its cars. Others significant BMW discounts include a £10,719 saving off a BMW 640d SE, which is available for £52,411 against a list price of £63,130, and a £2056 saving on a BMW 320d Efficient Dynamics, which can be bought for £26,719 despite a list price of £28,775.

ON OFFER: The BMW 7 Series

The biggest average discounts across a car maker's range are available on Volvos (14.7 per cent), Renaults (13.6 per cent) and BMWs (13.2 per cent). Across all sectors and manufacturers, the average dealer discount stood at a 12-month high of 10.3 per cent.

What Car? editor Jim Holder said: "For months now, we've been told that the increased new car sales volumes mean that discounts will disappear, but the insight offered by our Target Price team shows that you can still get a healthy amount of money off if you are prepared to haggle.

"BMW is, rightly, perceived as a quality brand, so it may surprise new car buyers that they can bag some of the brand's most luxurious offerings for much less than the list price. The fact is that the 7 Series is due to be replaced soon, so there are incredible discounts available. Using Target Price means that you can be bold when you step into the dealership because you know what you can demand."

Discounts of cars in the luxury segment are particularly strong at the moment, with an average saving of 17 per cent off the list price across the sector. This is an increase of 75 per cent on the same time last year and is also largely down to BMW 7 Series discounts jumping from 9 per cent to 29.3 per cent on average.

City cars, small family cars and coupés, where demand is stronger, have all experienced a dip in discounting but cars in the small SUV sector, which includes the BMW X1, Peugeot 3008 and Suzuki SX4, can be snapped up for an average of 8.4 per cent less than the list price.

Historic CARAVAN
SEARCH

Does anyone in the Cambridgeshire area ever recollect seeing, or knows where any remnant of this type of caravan may be? It is being sought with a view to potential renovation and family history research.

It is a Peak Diplomat rare double decker 6 berth, 1 of only 11 built in 1952. One was my family and holiday home up to 1960. It was sold on from the Stoke on Trent area around 1965 and had the name Holidale on the door. One in the Cambridge area is known to have been inhabited up to around 1985 and was reported to be in a dilapidated state, either in a field or works yard in the Cambridge area and used to store old motorbikes.

Any information or recollection of this or any similar model would be greatly appreciated;
Contact J Holroyd
on 01869 321034 or

► Football: Thurlow Nunn League

Shinn nets first Rovers triumph

HAVERHILL Rovers notched their first win under player-manager Michael Shinn as they overcame Brantham Athletic 4-2 in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division.

Rovers went ahead in first-half stoppage time, Marcus Hunt rising to head in a decent corner from Marc Abbott.

Dan Cornwell made it 2-0 10 minutes after the break when he beat the offside trap and, under pressure from Matthew Travis, went round young goalkeeper Paddy Hawkins and netted.

Brantham got a goal back in the 65th minute when a long throw was flicked on and Simon Mann had time and space to place his header into the bottom left corner.

But Haverhill restored their two-goal advantage soon after, another classy Abbott corner seeking out the head of Hunt once more who, with the defence and Hawkins seemingly disaffected by earlier results, headed into the net once more.

It was 4-1 with eight minutes remaining, defender Jack Cawley unable to deal with a ball through and Cornwell's first-time controlled lob from 25 yards going past Hawkins' fingertips and bouncing into the unguarded net.

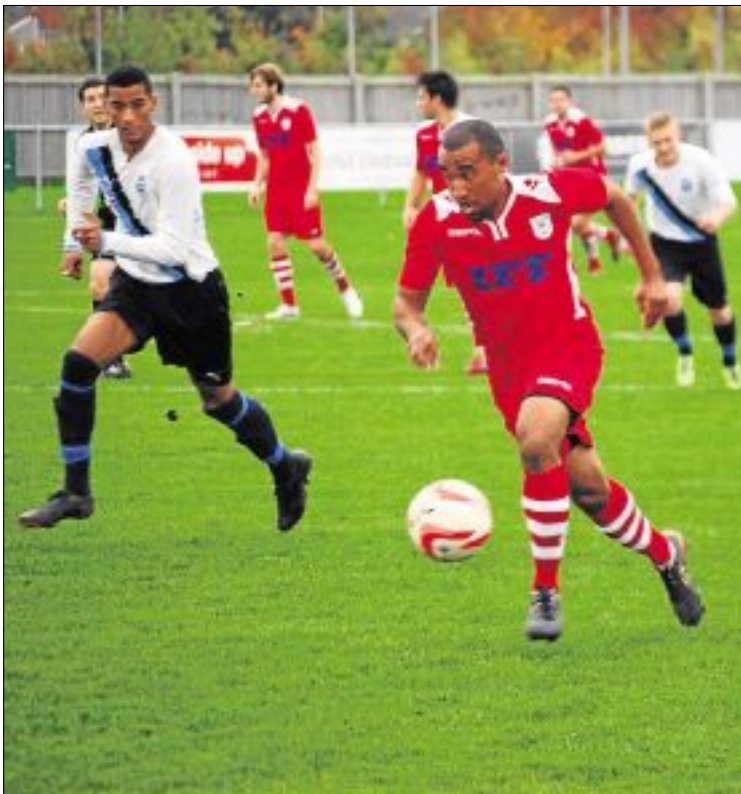

Cornwell was denied his hat-trick by a matter of inches before the goal of the game came in added time as Danny Garrad unleashed a 25-yard strike.

Haverhill Borough crashed out of the Suffolk Senior Cup in spectacular style at the weekend as they were reduced to nine men and conceded five goals without reply at Felixstowe & Harpers United.

Borough were 2-0 down when centre-back Errol Durell received his marching orders after tangling with an opponent and being deemed to have committed a professional foul.

A third goal went in for the hosts before Ryan Geoghegan was also shown a red card for stamping, and Borough conceded another two goals in the second period.

Borough suffered an even heavier loss last night when they were beaten 7-0 by Premier Division side Godmanchester Rovers in the Thurlow Nunn League Cup.

Jenkinson doubles up for Wratting

GEORGE Jenkinson got a brace as West Wrattling beat Milton Sky 4-2 in Cambridge & District Colts League, Division 15A.

Jenkinson scored in the first half, along with Daniel Cordwell and Joshua Santry.

Then after the break, Jenkinson added his second followed by Milton pulling two back in the closing stages.

Euan McGinley, Brandon McKay and Isaac Betts got one apiece as Haverhill Rovers beat Chatteris Town 3-1 in 15D.

Paul Jenkinson, Ellis Wiffen and Paul Nottley netted for West Wrattling under-17s in their 3-1 win over Aztecs in the league cup.

Jenkinson opened the scoring, finishing from Nottley's pass, although Aztecs managed to level before half time.

Wratting retook the lead early in the second half when George Mustoe found Wiffen, who turned and fired a low shot home.

Nottley wrapped up the win as the match approached full time after tapping in Jack Young's cross.

Billy Hunt, Ollie Santry and Gabriel Mason, plus an own goal saw Aztecs White defeat Ely Crusaders 4-2 in the Cambridgeshire Mini Soccer League under-11 knock-out cup.

Joe Sigler, Louie Bampton and Toros Yagir could not prevent Little Legends going down 4-3 to Histon Hornets in the same competition.

Jeffs leads way in victory

JAKE Jeffs' 16-point haul helped Haverhill secure a 36-6 triumph away to Sawston in Eastern Counties West Division Two.

Two penalties had Sawston six points ahead, but fly-half Jeffs scored under the posts and converted his own try to put Haverhill in front.

Jeffs then set up replacement Simon Potter for an unconverted try to put the visitors 12-6 up at half time.

Haverhill moved further ahead in the 55th minute when a quick line-out from Collins Musavengana led to Adam Hunt going over for a converted score.

Joe Wilson finished off a move involving Musavengana, Hunt and Paul Bergin for Haverhill's fourth try.

Jeffs then kicked a penalty, and was also on hand to convert when Haverhill forced a turnover, and Hunt dived over to score with the last play of the game.
